Introduction:

This work camp will expose volunteers to life in the Occupied West Bank. The work in Battir will be supervised by the Battir Landscape Eco-Museum (see below). The camp will also include one day in the Old City of Hebron, where volunteers will carry out renovation work and visit a local children's club.

The afternoons of the work camp will be dedicated to a program of educational activities. The aim is to expose volunteers to the reality of life in Palestine in the context of the ongoing Israeli occupation. The program will educate volunteers on Palestinian culture and history, and the history of conflict in the region. The program will also introduce volunteers to various civil society entities who are working towards a future Palestinian state. Civil society plays a crucial role in Palestine, helping people to stay resilient in the face of the many challenges brought about by the occupation.

International Palestinian Youth League (IPYL)

IPYL is an organization that empowers Palestinian youth through educational programs, intercultural learning, training, media literacy and youth leadership activities. Since its inception, IPYL has implemented hundreds of projects in a range of fields. These include 75 international voluntary work camps in Palestine and 65 in work camps in other Middle Eastern countries. The organization also carries out youth exchanges, geopolitical study trips, leadership seminars, youth and women think tank groups and community meetings. For more info about IPYL, please visit <https://www.ipyl.org>.

Battir Landscape Eco-Museum Center:

The Battir Landscape Eco-Museum Center is a local organization that aims to preserve Battir's ancient sites following the village's 2014 incorporation into the UNESCO World Heritage Program. The organization is active in renovation, landscaping and archeology. The club was established 6 years ago and now seeks help to renovate its old monuments and water canals that have survived for thousands of years. The landscape resembles the Babylon gardens. For more information visit <https://www.facebook.com/BattirLandscapeEcomuseum>

The afternoon will be dedicated to educational activities that will expose volunteers to Palestinian culture and history, and that will help volunteers to understand the reality of life under occupation. The program will include lectures, documentaries, visits to refugee camps in the Bethlehem area and tours of other places of interest. The program will provide many opportunities for interaction with locals. Volunteers will have the opportunity to speak with Palestinian activists and to ask whatever questions they have about the situation in Palestine.

Why in Bethlehem?

Bethlehem is considered a central hub of Palestinian cultural and tourism industries. The city has significant values for Christians as according to the Gospels it contains the birthplace of Jesus of Nazareth. Bethlehem is also home to one of the largest Palestinian Christian communities in the Middle East. In addition, Bethlehem has three Palestinian Refugee Camps (Dhisha, Al-Azza and Aida). The construction of the Israeli apartheid wall has had a severe impact on the city, politically, socially, and economically. The wall runs along the northern side of the town's built-up area, within meters of houses in 'A'ida refugee camp on the one side, and the suburbs of Jerusalem on the other.

The work camp will run throughout the Christmas period. Bethlehem is the best place to celebrate Christmas and to witness this unique cultural experience. The volunteers will have the opportunity to celebrate the Christmas with the Palestinians and express their solidarity with them.

Detailed information sheet and arrival note will be sent later.
